Which employees do not qualify to be certified?

Some employees do not qualify the employer for the WOTC. They include:

- Relatives and dependents of the employer, including sons, daughters, stepchildren, spouses, fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters, step-brothers or sisters, nephews, nieces, uncles, aunts, cousins, or in-laws
- Former employees, regardless of how long it has been since he/she last worked for the employer (except for summer youth)
- Majority owners of the business.

What wages do not qualify for the tax credit calculation?

Wages include all remuneration paid to an employee. However, to qualify, the wages must be:

- Wages for which the employer pays Federal Unemployment Tax Act (FUTA) taxes
- Wages actually paid by the employer, including those to on-the-job training (OJT) participants. If the OJT worker is receiving subsidized wages directly from another party, or indirectly paid through the employer, then the wages do not qualify (although the hours worked for the employer count for the minimum retention period).

Note: Please refer to the respective IRS forms for instructions on calculating and claiming the tax credit.
